THIS WEEK'S FOCUS

One day, God will make everything new - with no more pain, sadness, or death. Jesus' resurrection gives us a hope for the future, where all things will be renewed when he returns.

SERIES OVERVIEW

Creation Care

The Scriptures—and especially the Psalms—repeatedly and emphatically declare the wonders and beauty of God's creation. The Earth is the Lord's! (Psalm 24) The heavens declare the glory of God! (Psalm 19) How many are your works, Lord! (Psalm 104) Creating humankind in his image, God entrusted us to wisely steward his rule, yet our relationship with God's world is distorted and damaged. This three-part series will explore the goodness of God's creation and our rule, the problem and impact of sin, and how we are to live in anticipation of New Creation.

FOCUS

TEACHING TIME

New Creation and Our Future

God created a perfect world that He wanted us to enjoy and love. But not long after He created our perfect world, people turned away from Him and let sin come into our perfect world. Because there is sin in the world bad things happen - even to really good people. This isn't the way God wanted it to be.

But God has a plan to make everything perfect again. In Revelation 21, God gives us a picture of the future. John, who followed Jesus, saw a vision of what's coming. He saw a brand-new heaven and a brand-new earth. Everything will be made new and perfect. God himself will live with his people. There will be no more crying, no more pain, no more sadness, and no more death.

But how can we be sure this will happen? Because of Jesus. Jesus came into our broken world, died on the cross to take away our sin, and then rose again to life. His resurrection shows us that death has been defeated, and it gives us hope for the future.

One day, when Jesus comes back, he will make everything new, not just us, but the whole world!

This means that even when life feels hard, we can have hope. When we're sad, sick, or lonely, we can remember that God promises something better is coming. And while we wait, we can live as God's children now. We can show love and kindness, we can care for the world, and we can remind each other of the great hope we have.

STEPS

1. Partner the children up. One child is to sit in front of the other child. The child at the back draws or writes a message on the child in front's back - using a paddlepop stick (or similar).
2. The child in front holds a mini whiteboard and receives the message on their back and draws a copy of this on the whiteboard. Once finished, they reveal their drawing to the child behind to see how accurate it is!
3. Repeat, but partners swap roles.
4. When kids try to guess the drawing, it's often messy, unclear, or confusing. That's a bit like life now, we only get a glimpse of God's plans, and sometimes things feel broken or hard to understand. But one day, in the new creation, everything will be clear, perfect, and wonderful because God will make all things new.

STEPS

1. Talk about all the different things that will be God's Kingdom that are described in Revelation. Ask the children what they think it will look like, sound like, what will be there and what won't be there.
2. Give each child a piece of paper and a lead pencil. Ask them to draw their idea of what God's new creation will look like.
3. Then using pastels, get them to add colour to their pictures.

Link

When we draw God's kingdom, we get to imagine the beauty, joy, and peace of the new creation. Our drawings are just a tiny picture, but they remind us of the promise that God is making everything new and perfect.

GAME: Opposites

YOU'LL NEED...

- Printout of Worksheet #4

STEPS

1. Talk with the children about the difference between the world now and what New Creation will be like. Refer to verse 4 where we are told there will be no more sadness, pain, sorrow, death.
2. Flip through the images from the printout (pre-cut these out). Ask the children what each one is and/or name each one. Talk about what opposites are and work with the children to try and find all the opposites in the set.
3. Then lay out the images, face down on a flat surface. Children take turns to flip over TWO of the images. If they are a match of 'opposites' that go together, they keep those two and have another turn.
4. Continue playing, with the children taking turns to flip over pairs.
5. Alternative, hold up a picture one at a time and have the children run to the side of the room where it belongs: either "The World Now" (broken by sin) or "New Creation" (perfect with God).

The world now is full of sadness, pain, and death because of sin. But God promises that one day, through Jesus, he will make everything new.

GAME: Jigsaw Puzzle Relay

YOU'LL NEED...

- Jigsaw puzzles (1 per team)

STEPS

1. Gather the children into groups, lining them in parallel lines at one end of the room.
2. Set up the puzzle pieces in front of the children and the puzzle boards at the other end.
3. Explain to the children that it will be a relay race against the other teams.
4. When the leader says GO, the first child picks up ONE puzzle piece and runs to the other side of the room and puts it in the correct spot on the puzzle board and runs back to their team.
5. When they make it back, the next child picks up a puzzle piece and runs to the other side of the room and back.
6. Repeat until all the pieces are in the puzzle, the winner is the team who finishes first.

Link
